

Mljet - Mljet

Logbook Day 15 - Mljet to Shangjin / Albania

Just a cruise down the Mljet island coast to the very southern tip. Nice northerly winds and some relaxed cruising. There are some buoy that I remember.

Discovered some leakage at the impeller pump. Couldn't fix it, so constructed a collection bin. Seems to work. About 1/2 cup of seawater dripples in for 1 hour of motoring.

The idea for the next days; Mljet is the most southern (larger) island of Croatia. Kick off from there, sailing further down the Croatian coast to the closest port, Molunat, towards Albania. I would skip Montenegro and directly go to Shengjin, Albania.

5h sailing, 18 nm

Wind 0-13 kn,NEN
